St. Margaret of Scotland
Born around 1045 in exile, St. Margaret became queen after marrying King Malcolm III. Known for her faith, charity, and influence on Scottish culture, she supported Church reform, founded churches, monasteries, and pilgrim hostels, and cared for the poor. She died in 1093, was canonized in 1250, and is patron of Scotland.
Biography
St. Margaret of Scotland was born in exile around 1045, in what is now Hungary. She was the daughter of Princess Agatha of Hungary and Edward the Atheling, the Anglo-Saxon heir to the throne of England. The family returned to England, but Edward died soon after their arrival, making Margaret's brother Edgar the presumptive heir. However, the Norman Conquest would turn their world upside down. Agatha and her children fled the country. They likely intended to go back to Hungary, but were shipwrecked off the coast of Scotland.
King Malcolm Canmore III took the exiles under his wing, and he fell in love with the beautiful and gracious St. Margaret. Although she initially rebuffed his proposals, the couple were married in 1070 at the castle of Dunfermline. St. Margaret and Malcolm had eight children, six sons and two daughters. She brought culture to the Scottish court and used her influence to soften her rough husband. The saint led a life of austerity, aiding Church reform, promoting Easter communion, and founding churches and monasteries. She instituted the Queen's Ferry to the shrine of St. Andrew and founded pilgrimage hostels.
St. Margaret, Queen of Scotland, died on November 16, 1093, four days after her husband and eldest son were killed in the battle of Alnwick. She was canonized by Pope Innocent IV in 1250 and named patron of Scotland in 1673.
St. Margaret of Scotland, pray for us!

Gospel Meditation
Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture
November 15, 2026
Thirty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time
Matthew 25:14-30
A friend once took his young adult son to the casino for his birthday. He handed him $100 and said, "Let's have a great time." The son, a graduate student with limited money, quietly pocketed the money and refused to play. "I don't want to lose it," he said. But he missed the point: the money was not really his to pocket; it was his father's invitation to share an experience together.
God sees our gifts a bit like this. In Jesus' parable, a servant buries his master's talent and explains: "Master, I knew you were a demanding person…so out of fear I went off and buried your talent in the ground" (Matthew 25:24-25). The master condemns him not for failure but for refusing to risk. The servant's fear distorts his image of the master and leads to a small, loveless response. No love, no risk. No risk, no relationship.
How easily we fall into this trap! We treat God's gifts as fragile possessions rather than invitations. We play it safe, avoid risk, and tell ourselves we are wise and God is cruel. But Jesus praises those who trust the Master's goodness enough to act boldly. They are not reckless but confident enough in their Master to risk their gifts for Him.
So, what is my interior story about God right now? Is it marked by generosity, adventure, and trust? Or by fear, caution, and suspicion? That hidden narrative shapes everything. Because love, by its nature, always takes risks with, and for, the beloved.
— Father John Muir
